

How to request an EFC Appeal

Your financial aid for the upcoming 2023-2024 academic year will be based on the 2021 income information provided on your FAFSA. However, if significant circumstances have impacted you and/or your family's income since submitting your FAFSA, you can petition our office for a Family Contribution Appeal (formerly Income Change Review) to re-evaluate your financial aid.

The following are some reasons to request a Family Contribution Appeal:

- Termination or change in employment
- Significant loss of income during the last 12 months
- Death of a parent or spouse
- Divorce or separation
- Loss of a one-time payout, such as IRA distribution

If any items listed above pertain to you and/or your family, create or log into your CSUMB Student Forms account and complete the Family Contribution Appeal.

Create Your CSUMB Student Forms Account

If you have not already created a CSUMB Student Forms account, you'll be asked for some basic information during this one-time account creation process. 1. Go to CSUMB Student Forms
2. Click 'Create Account' link
3. Enter/confirm your student information

If you received Error Code 1010, please compare your name, SSN/Dream Act ID, and date of birth with what was provided on your FAFSA/CADAA.

4. A new task will appear on your "Needs Action" page titled 2023-2024 Family Contribution Appeal

Complete all the sections provided in the PJ EFC Appeal form and include all of the required documentation. You must also provide a detailed statement describing how the change in income has affected you and your family and submit supporting documentation. 2021 federal income taxes must be filed to be considered.
